REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. Claims 6-14 and 18-25 are allowed over the prior art of record.
2. Claims 1-5 and 5-17 have been cancelled.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The applicant's arguments filed on 10/15/2007 are persuasive. The feature of independent claims 6 and 10 directed towards allowable subject matter is a storing polarity patterns in a read only memory (ROM) of a polarity pattern storing portion. The feature of independent claim 18 directed towards allowable subject matter is partitioning a display screen into a plurality of blocks, calculating a rate of flicker patterns contained in at least one block, and changing a polarity pattern, which detects a polarity of the data signal supplied to the data bus lines, from a first polarity pattern to a second polarity pattern when the rate exceeds a predetermined value. The feature of independent claims 23 and 24 directed towards allowable subject matter is a dynamic range designating portion for designating a dynamic range and a flicker information amount detecting portion for calculating a rate at which the patterns, which are detected by the flicker pattern detecting portion as flicker patterns, are contained in the dynamic range which is designated by the dynamic range designating portion. Yamazaki teaches of a like device having said RAM memory, but fails to teach of the above claimed features that requires a polarity pattern in a ROM of a polarity pattern storing portion. Further Yamazaki fails to teach of said second polarity pattern when a rate of flicker patterns exceeds a predetermined value, as well as, said dynamic range adjustment. Therefore the above said features in combination with the other limitations of the above independent claims 6, 10, 18, 23, and 24, and therefore claims 6-14 and 18-25, are found to be allowable over the prior art of record.

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
